MRPC WELCOMES DON DURAND AS EAST COAST TERRITORY SALES MANAGER

Wisconsin Medical Device Manufacturer Adds Customer Focused Silicone Specialist to Sales Team

BUTLER, Wis. (June 20, 2011) – MRPC, a single-source provider of medical device components and assemblies, has added Don Durand as East Coast Territory Sales Manager.

Durand joins MRPC's team with career experience spanning plastics, silicone and epoxy product lines within the Medical, Aerospace, Industrial and Commercial markets. Durand, a U.S. Air Force Reserves Master Sergeant has 20 years of materials processing and silicone plastics experience.

"MRPC produces extensive, advanced, quality products and has longevity in the marketplace," Durand said. "These two items made the company a compelling choice for me."

With experience in thermoplastics and silicone materials processing related to the medical device marketplace, Durand consults with customers on choosing the right custom applications for each customer's needs.

"Don's experience in silicone and plastics technologies as well as his dynamic customer service skills make him an integral addition to our team," said Mark Brandstaetter, vice president of sales and marketing.
